

Are you embarking on a new leadership role? Are you wanting to develop the skills and strategies to thrive in your new role? HigherEd Academic Leadership Exchange (HALE) can transform your journey.

Navigating the complexities of leadership can be isolating, but HALE offers a mix of peer learning with the guidance of experienced coaches and instructors. Sign up for our program today, and enjoy an exclusive discount at $499 CAD, and experience tailored leadership development through group coaching and just-in-time training. Connect with peers across Canadian universities and grow your leadership abilities.

"This was an excellent program. I loved the dynamic between the three facilitators - each bringing different perspectives into their facilitation. I very much appreciated the opportunity to connect with other leaders in higher education and found the conversations in break out sessions very stimulating."

Participant, January 2024

Meet the instructional team guiding you through this journey:

- Christine Costa (MBA): With almost 25 years of experience in various HR roles, Christine is a seasoned Human Resources professional passionate about learning and inclusion. Her extensive background includes designing and facilitating university leadership programs.
- Lisa Sansom (MBA, MAPP, PCC): A PCC-certified coach and Organizational Development Consultant since 2006, Lisa specializes in change management, positive psychology, and leadership development, offering a wealth of expertise to our program.
- Andrea Swanson (MA, PPCC): A certified coach, Organizational Development Consultant, and leadership instructor at Schulich in the MBA program, Andrea brings over 10 years of experience working with executives in large organizations.

Join our Higher-Ed Academic Leadership Exchange program in May 2024, where real-time sessions cover essential topics like emotional agility, managing difficult conversations, influencing others, and leading change. Make your mark as an academic leader. Register now, connect with peers, and acquire the skills needed to thrive in your new role with HALE. Ask a question about the program.

Email Lisa at info@lvsconsulting.com with the subject "HALE program inquiry" or click through to embark on this transformative journey.